Fr. Tom Lilly
Pastor

Hello! I'm Father Tom Lilly, a native of California and a happy resident of the Great State of Alaska since 1991. Born in Long Beach and raised in San Jose, I left California after graduating from the University of Santa Clara in 1981. After 36 years of "wondering what God wanted me to do with my life," I entered Mount Angel Seminary in 1996 and there found the answer: to serve God's people as a Catholic priest. Archbishop Schwietz ordained me as a priest for the Archdiocese of Anchorage on May 24, 2003. After serving for two wonderful years at Saint Patrick Parish in East Anchorage, I was transferred to Saint Elizabeth Ann Seton Parish in June of 2005. I consider it a privilege, a blessing and a great joy to serve and minister with the people of this faith community! Hobbies include skiing, hiking, biking, reading and traveling.
